LAUSCHE PLAN SURVEYED BY OHIO SOLONS

Legislators, Opening Special Session, Consider 22-Point Program

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, June 24 — Ohio's lawmakers assemble in special session at 8 tonight to begin work on a 22-point emergency program outlined by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

In calling the special session, the governor laid down a program concerned chiefly with providing additional funds for the state's six universities, the welfare department and other governmental branches and said he expects the lawmakers to finish the task "within a week or two."

But even before the solons assembled, there were indications the gathering would consume more than a summer fortnight. Rep. Thomas J. Barrett (D) of Mahoning county asked the governor yesterday to add to the program consideration of legislation preventing landlords from discriminating against families with children.

Longer Session Possible
Barrett, in a letter to Lausche, said talk of abolishing OPA controls made such legislation "even more pressing" and predicted that the end of OPA would bring "a state of war" between landlords and tenants.

Should the governor heed the request of Barrett and others who have indicated a desire to add to the agenda, the session would be certain to extend beyond a "week or two."

Under the Ohio constitution, legislators in special session are forbidden to consider any legislation except that requested by the governor, but there were indications at least three proposals would be added to the 22-point program. These were:

(1) Acceptance of a gift of "Adena," the colonial home of former Gov. Thomas Worthington near Chillicothe; (2) establishment of a disabled war veterans' rest camp and vocational educational center; (3) and temporary relaxation of the medical practice act to permit a limited number of war veterans to practice medicine in Ohio.

It is anticipated that close to $100,000 will be needed to finance the welfare and university activities during the remainder of the current year.

Asks Veterans Department
Veterans' legislation comprises most of the governor's program outside the welfare and educational requirements. Virtually all the proposed veteran legislation was recommended by the Veterans Program commission with a proposal for an independent veterans department in the state government leading the list.

The governor has limited the appropriation of funds to the $16,500,000 free surplus in the state treasury. His original program ignored repeated local governmental pleas for more money because of increased operating costs, but if a majority favors granting more money to local governments, the governor is expected to authorize its consideration.

The governor asked that all his proposals be passed as emergency measures requiring a two-thirds vote of the elected membership of each branch to make them operative immediately.

Vinson Is Sworn In As 13th Chief Justice

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 24—Fred M. Vinson became the nation's 13th chief justice today at a colorful ceremony on the south portico of the White House.

Thousands watched the ceremony from the sun-bathed lawn to the rear of the mansion. In solemn tones, Vinson declared "I do, so help me God," in taking each of the customary oaths.

President Truman declared Vinson's appointment as the 13th chief justice was "lucky for the United States and lucky for Mr. Vinson," and added: "I hope it is."

Nine-Minute Ceremony
The entire ceremony lasted nine minutes. Before Vinson, attired in a dark blue suit, stepped out on the portico to be sworn in, a navy band played "Pomp and Circumstance."

This set the pattern for the unusual ceremony, which was planned by Mr. Truman to rival in color a presidential inauguration.

The chief justice, a native Kentuckian, who succeeded the late Harlan F. Stone, took one oath to support and defend the constitution and another to provide equal justice to rich and poor.

There was no reference to the discord on the Supreme court which President Truman hopes the former treasury secretary will be able to still.

There was one remark by President Truman which many considered a cue to the unusual ceremony: "We all know that one of the three branches of the government of the United States is the branch of the judiciary—the judicial branch. The supreme court is at the top of the judicial branch. All of us have the utmost respect for the courts of the country, and we know that that respect will be enhanced when Mr. Vinson becomes chief justice of the United States actively on the bench."

A recent blast by Justice Robert H. Jackson from Germany against Justice Hugo Black brought into the open a long-smoldering controversy within the ranks of the nation's highest tribunal.

Foreign Ministers Reject Demand: Italian-French Issue Unsettled
PARIS, June 24—An American informant said the Council of Foreign Ministers rejected today Austria's demand to take part of the southern Tyrol from Italy but was unable to agree on the Italian-French frontier issue.

The Austrian demand would have given the new republic control of the strategic Pusterthal railroad. The United States, Russia, British and French foreign ministers planned to continue discussions of the French-Italian border late today.

The French have demanded and received tacit approval at previous conferences for minor adjustments in the Alpine region.

Disposition of surplus Italian naval units also was on the afternoon agenda.

Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of Russia was declared to have sought a postponement of the French-Italian frontier while the American and British conferees insisted on an immediate decision.

Study Balkan Treaties
At the start of the morning session British Deputy Foreign Minister Gladwyn Jebb, reporting on behalf of his colleagues, presented a list of four problems concerning the Balkan treaties which the ministers were to take up after the Italian treaty. They were:

1. Danube question.
2. The clause in the Romanian treaty on personal injuries to allied nationals.
3. The tribunal of arbitration clause on the same treaty.
4. General limitation of Hungary's air force.

France was reported to have put forward a compromise plan on the Trieste problem.

While nothing official was announced concerning the plan, it was reported France had proposed that the disputed Adriatic port be internationalized for a period of 10 years, after which a plebiscite would be held to decide whether the city should go to Italy or Yugoslavia.

Police investigated four traffic accidents over the weekend, one of which involved a hit-skip driver who struck a pedestrian and another which resulted in a fine of $100 and costs for a driver charged with intoxication.

Asa Stewart, R. D. 5, Salem, was struck by a car on W. State st., directly across from the Green Cab Co. office at 1:10 a. m. Sunday. Injured, Stewart was taken to Salem City hospital for treatment.

The car which struck him did not stop, police stated, but a witness gave police a description of the vehicle. Stewart was hit as he walked north across the street.

Frank Penny of Lisbon was fined $100 and costs by Mayor R. R. Johnson this morning after police arrested him for driving while intoxicated following an accident on W. State st. near the Pennsylvania crossing at 1:15 a. m. Sunday.

Police said Penny's car struck another, owned by Louis Rappaport of Cleveland.

Cars operated by C. J. Champness of Parma and E. N. Mills, 232 S. Ellsworth ave., collided in the alley east of the Gulf station, W. State st., at 9 p. m. Sunday.

Virgil Calhoun, 1245 E. State st., reported to police that his car was another, operated by Arthur A. Rice, 271 W. Seventh st., collided at the intersection of S. Lincoln ave. and E. Pershing st. at 10 p. m. Saturday. No one was injured.

'Ike' Says Stalin Withheld Strategy Plans Until Late

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 24—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower recorded in his final report today as Supreme Allied commander in Europe that he was kept in the dark about Russia's grand strategy until four months before V-E day.

Then, however, Marshall Stalin came through with full plans for the Red army's final offensive, which became one jaw of a vise that crushed the German war machine "to a degree never before experienced in the history of modern armies."

Eisenhower's belatedly published 123-page detailed report to the combined chiefs of staff covered the fateful 11 months from D-day in Normandy to the German surrender. It was released by the War department.

In it the present army chief of staff recorded briefly his difficulties of coordination with the Red army while lauding the teamwork of the Western Allies. The United States and Great Britain, he said fought as "one nation."

Allied Might, Spirit Won
Aside from teamwork, Eisenhower concluded the victory was due to Allied might and "invincibility of spirit" and to miscalculations by Hitler and Field Marshal Von Rundstedt, the Nazi commander in the west.

In Eisenhower's judgment, three battles were decisive in liberating Europe.

1. The battle of the Normandy beaches, where the foe was revealed as a stubborn fighter but beset by difficulties of supply and communications resulting largely from the Allied hammering from the air. "Completely misled" by Allied diversions, Von Rundstedt held the bulk of his forces in the Pas-De-Calais opposite England, waiting for a second assault which never came.

2. The battle of the Falaise pocket, where the enemy "showed that fatal tendency to stand and fight when all the logic of war demanded a strategic withdrawal."

3. Battles west of the Rhine during February and March, 1945.

3 SHOT TO DEATH; RELATIVE QUIZZED
CLEVELAND, June 24—Police today held in custody a relative of three persons who were killed yesterday when they were fired upon as they were eating lunch in their home.

Detective Sgt. Howard Hutchings termed the shooting as a family quarrel over money and said a relative, arrested at his home soon after the slayings, admitted firing the fatal shots.

The detective said Dunham Mabry, 59, and his wife, Florence, 45, were killed outright as they answered a knock at the side door to their home. Four shots were fired and both were hit in the chest.

Mabry's sister, Mrs. Beulah Shade, 55, fled out the front door of the house and was shot twice in the back. She died 10 minutes later at a hospital.

Atomic Test Dress Rehearsal Carried Out Successfully

(By Associated Press)
By CHARLES M. MCMEURY
ABOARD B-29 CIRCLING BIKINI, June 24—The B-29 crew scheduled to drop the atomic bomb in a few days outgassed the weather today and scored "good" results with a practice bomb—after their plane's propeller killed an Army Air Forces captain just before the take off.

Maj. Gen. Roger Ramey of Denton, Tex., who rode the B-29 that dropped the practice bomb today, said:

"The queen's day mission from an air operations point of view was apparently satisfactory. Final judgment depends on photographs and reports."

(From the U. S. S. Mt. McKinley Associated Press correspondent, Elton C. Pay quoted the atomic bomb task force commander, Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, as saying the experiment was "well, I hope the real show is as good as the rehearsal.")

Dropped On Second Run
Clouds obliterated the target ships in Bikini lagoon when the B-29, piloted by Maj. Woodrow Swannett of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., made its first run. But by the time the big plane came around again, the bombardier, Harold H. Wood of Bordentown, N. Y., was able to take advantage of shifting clouds to drop his practice bomb within 13 seconds of the scheduled time.

(Pay aboard the Mt. McKinley said the bomb went off "like a ball of orange flame bursting close to the target ships" in the Bikini fleet that is to be used on or about July 1 when the world's fourth atomic bomb actually is dropped. The Mt. McKinley was 10 miles away but Pay said the bomb apparently went off at an altitude of 1,000 to 1,500 feet between the old battleship, USS Nevada, and the light cruiser, Independence.

Before Maj. Swannett's plane, "Dave's Dream" took off, an Army Air Forces captain walked into a propeller and was killed. Members of the crew helped place his body in an ambulance before taking off one minute late. Their coolness and determination to carry out their mission was praised by military leaders.

Akron Bakeries Resume
AKRON, June 24—Reopening of six bakeries after a week-long strike was expected to ease the critical shortage here today. AFL union bakers voted Saturday to accept new pay provisions giving bakery bakers $1.08 an hour, an increase of about four cents.

WASHINGTON, June 24—The Railway Express Agency, Inc., asked Interstate Commerce commission authority today to increase its rates and charges to obtain what it called "urgently needed additional revenue."

SEATTLE AREA HIT BY QUAKE
SEATTLE, June 24—Walls fell and a hillside walked yesterday morning in the Pacific Northwest when a strong earth shock jarred a wedge-shaped piece of the coastal area from Vancouver island to Kilowina in central British Columbia and south to Olympia, Wash.

One man died, Jacob L. Kingston, 69, succumbing to heart failure when Seattle's downtown buildings swayed above him as he walked toward church. There were no other reports of deaths or injuries.

The quake knocked the needle from the recorder at the University of Washington's seismograph at 9:14:30 a. m. (PST) and was recorded at 9:14 by the Dominion astrophysical observatory in Victoria, B. C. It was noticeable for a full minute to Seattleites, but the university reported its equipment continued to record vibrations for an hour.

"It was the most severe in several years," said Dr. J. A. Pearce, director of the dominion station, estimating its epicenter as near Victoria, probably 25 miles distant.

Buildings, Roads Damaged
From the villages along the east coast of Vancouver island, north of Victoria, came reports of extensive damage to buildings and roads. A 300-foot high hill "walked" 35 feet closer to the sea at Campbell river and a house moved five feet off its foundations.

At Port Alberni the top of a brick-fronted building crashed to the street. At Courtenay a collapsing chimney smashed through two floors of an elementary school into a classroom which, on a week day, would have been occupied by 60 children.

Across the Strait of Georgia at Vancouver, B. C., tall buildings swayed crazily and a piece of masonry crashed to the pavement from the Canadian national railway station, narrowly missing a group of people.

There were several chimney fires and a swing-span bridge was pushed open by the quake.

George Finley, Canadian press staff writer, said the Lions gate bridge across the entrance to Vancouver harbor, largest suspension bridge in the empire, "swayed like a leaf." He said the tremor was accompanied by "a low rumbling sound, like a deep growl."

One bridge on a highway leading into Seattle was cracked but traffic continued to cross, with highway department employees on hand to keep it moving slowly.

MARION, June 24 — Forrest M. Smith, 20, who was injured in an automobile accident as he hitchhiked toward his home in Hanoverton, Columbiana county, after being discharged from the army, died today.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Smith, Sr. He also leaves his wife, Margaret.

Bert Bulle, 71, of Sidney, was killed in the accident, which occurred last Thursday near Waldo when Bulle's car struck a bridge.

PROBE 4 MISHAPS; ONE DRIVER HELD

Police investigated four traffic accidents over the weekend, one of which involved a hit-skip driver who struck a pedestrian and another which resulted in a fine of $100 and costs for a driver charged with intoxication.

Asa Stewart, R. D. 5, Salem, was struck by a car on W. State st. directly across from the Green Carb Co. office at 1:15 a. m. Sunday. Injured, Stewart was taken to Salem City hospital for treatment.

The car which struck him did not stop, police stated, but a witness gave police a description of the vehicle. Stewart was hit as he walked north across the street.

Frank Penny of Lisbon was fined $100 and costs by Mayor R. R. Johnson this morning after police arrested him for driving while intoxicated following an accident on W. State st. near the Pennsylvania crossing at 1:15 a. m. Sunday.

Police said Penny's car struck another, owned by Louis Rappaport of Cleveland.

Cars operated by C. J. Champness of Parma and E. N. Mills, 232 S. Ellsworth ave., collided in the alley east of the Gulf station, W. State st., at 9 p. m. Sunday.

Virgil Calhoun, 1245 E. State st., was reported to police that his car and another, operated by Arthur A. Rice, 271 W. Seventh st., collided at the intersection of S. Lincoln ave. and E. Pershing st. at 10 p. m. Saturday. No one was injured.

Two American MP's Slain In Vienna

VIENNA, June 24—Russian and American investigators, working in close cooperation, were near a solution today of the shooting of two American military policemen Saturday night.

The Americans, both recovering in an army hospital, were shot when they attempted to stop a stolen American jeep in which three Russian soldiers were riding.

A number of Russians were still under questioning today and one of the occupants of the stolen jeep was in custody.

A Russian lieutenant was shot while resisting arrest by American military policemen ordered to pick up suspects in the case. He was in serious condition with a bullet wound in the stomach.

The two Americans were shot at close range. One of them suffered powder burns around his eyes. Both were shot in the face when they pulled their jeep beside the stolen jeep.

American officers praised Russian cooperation in investigating the case. The Russians have given assurances all men involved in the shooting would be found and turned over to American authorities.

Names of the two wounded Americans were withheld pending notification of their families.

'Ike' Says Stalin Withheld Strategy Plans Until Late

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, June 24—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower recorded in his final report today as Supreme Allied commander in Europe that he was kept in the dark about Russia's grand strategy until four months before V-E day.

Then, however, Marshall Stalin came through with full plans for the Red army's final offensive, which became one jaw of a vise that crushed the German war machine "to a degree never before experienced in the history of modern armies."

Eisenhower's belatedly published 123-page detailed report to the combined chiefs of staff covered the fateful 11 months from D-day in Normandy to the German surrender. It was released by the War department.

In it the present army chief of staff recorded briefly his difficulties of coordination with the Red army while lauding the teamwork of the Western Allies. The United States and Great Britain, he said fought as "one nation."

Allied Might, Spirit Won
Aside from teamwork, Eisenhower concluded the victory was due to Allied might and "invincibility of spirit" and to miscalculations by Hitler and Field Marshal Von Rundstedt, the Nazi commander in the west.

Copies for the public, described as "very attractive," are available from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington.

Money from the sale of the 123-page booklet goes to the government.

In Eisenhower's judgment, three battles were decisive in liberating Europe.

1. The battle of the Normandy beaches, where the foe was revealed as a stubborn fighter but beset by difficulties of supply and communications resulting largely from the Allied hammering from the air.

"Completely misled" by Allied diversionary operations, Von Rundstedt held the bulk of his forces in the Pas-De-Calais opposite England, waiting for a second assault which never came.

2. The battle of the Falaise pocket, where the enemy "showed that fatal tendency to stand and fight when all the logic of war demanded a strategic withdrawal."

3. Battles west of the Rhine during February and March, 1945.

3 SHOT TO DEATH; RELATIVE QUIZZED

CLEVELAND, June 24—Police today held in custody a relative of three persons who were killed yesterday when they were fired upon as they were eating lunch in their home.

Detective Sgt. Howard Hutchings termed the shooting as a family quarrel over money and said a relative, arrested at his home soon after the slayings, admitted firing the fatal shots.

The detective said Dunham Mabry, 59, and his wife, Florence, 45, were killed outright as they answered a knock at the side door to their home. Four shots were fired and both were hit in the chest.

Mabry's sister, Mrs. Beulah Shade, 55, fled out the front door of the house and was shot twice in the back. She died 19 minutes later at a hospital.

Atomic Test Dress Rehearsal Carried Out Successfully

By CHARLES M. MCMURTRY
ABOARD B-29 CIRCLING BIKINI, June 24—The B-29 crew scheduled to drop the atomic bomb in a few days outguessed the weather today and scored "good" results with a practice bomb—after their plane's propeller killed an Army Air Forces captain just before the take off.

Maj. Gen. Roger Ramey of Dayton, Tex., who rode the B-29 that dropped the practice bomb today, said:

"The queen's day mission from an air operations point of view was apparently satisfactory. Final judgment depends on photographs and reports."

(From the U. S. S. M. McKinley Associated Press correspondent, Elton C. Fay quoted the atomic bomb task force commander, Vice Adm. W. H. P. Blandy, as saying the experiment was "well, I hope the real show is as good as the rehearsal.")

Dropped On Second Run
Clouds obliterated the target ships in Bikini lagoon when the B-29, piloted by Maj. Woodrow Swannett of Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., made its first run. But by the time the big plane came around again, the bombardier, Harold H. Wood of Bordentown, N. Y., was able to take advantage of shifting clouds to drop his practice bomb within 13 seconds of the scheduled time.

"(Fay) aboard the M. McKinley said the bomb went off 'like a ball of orange flame bursting close to the target ships' in the Bikini fleet that is to be used on or about July 1 when the world's fourth atomic bomb actually is dropped. The M. McKinley was 10 miles away but Fay said the bomb apparently went off at an altitude of 1,000 to 1,500 feet between the old battleship, USS Nevada, and the light cruiser, Independence.

"Before Maj. Swannett's plane, 'Dave's Dream,' took off, an Army Air Forces captain walked into a propeller and was killed. Members of the crew helped place his body in an ambulance before taking off one minute later. Their coolness and determination to carry out their mission was praised by military leaders.

SEATTLE AREA HIT BY QUAKE

Severe Shock Topples Walls, Moves Hillside Toward Ocean

(By Associated Press)

SEATTLE, June 24—Walls fell and a hillside walked yesterday morning in the Pacific Northwest when a strong earth shock jarred a wedge-shaped piece of the coastal area from Vancouver island to Kluwana in central British Columbia and south to Olympia, Wash.

One man died, Jacob L. Kingston, 69, succumbing to heart failure when Seattle's downtown buildings swayed above him as he walked toward church. There were no other reports of deaths of injuries.

The quake knocked the needle from the recorder at the University of Washington's seismograph at 9:14:30 a. m. (PST) and was recorded at 9:14 by the Dominion astrophysical observatory in Victoria, B. C. It was noticeable for a full minute to Seattleites, but the university reported its equipment continued to record vibrations for an hour.

"It was the most severe in several years," said Dr. J. A. Pearce, director of the seismograph station, estimating its epicenter at near Victoria, probably 25 miles distant.

Buildings, Roads Damaged
From the villages along the coast of Vancouver island, north of Victoria, came reports of extensive damage to buildings and roads. A 300-foot high hill "walked" 35 feet closer to the sea at Campbell river and a house moved five feet off its foundations.

At Port Alberni the top of a brick-fronted building crashed to the street. At Courtenay a collapsing chimney smashed through two floors of an elementary school into a classroom which, on a week day, would have been occupied by 60 children.

Across the Strait of Georgia at Vancouver, B. C., tall buildings swayed crazily and a piece of masonry crashed to the pavement from the Canadian national railway station, narrowly missing a group of people.

There were several chimney fires and a swing-span bridge was pushed open by the quake.

George Finley, Canadian press staff writer, said the Lions gate bridge across the entrance to Vancouver harbor, largest suspension bridge in the empire, "swayed like a leaf." He said the tremor was accompanied by "a low rumbling sound, like a deep growl."

One bridge on a highway leading into Seattle was cracked but traffic continued to cross, with highway department employees on hand to keep it moving slowly.

GROUPS VISIT CAPITAL HILL, CRY 'SAVE OPA'

Senate-House Committee Expected To Decide On Differences

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 24—Delegations representing housewives and labor groups converged on Capitol Hill today demanding: "Save OPA."

With the future of the agency about to be decided, the visitors buttonholed senators and house members to plead for continuation of the present price control law. They called on members at their offices and stopped them in the halls.

A "Save OPA" rally was set for later in the day at the Washington monument.

Senator Taylor (D-Idaho), who planned to address the rally, said the march on Washington in behalf of OPA was organized by various labor groups and citizens committees. They assembled here from cities in the east and midwest, he said.

Agreement Tonight Likely

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.) predicted the final form of price control legislation would be determined by 9 p. m.

Wolcott is a member of the joint congressional committee harmonizing differences between house and senate OPA bills. The conferees meet at 8 p. m. in a session which Wolcott said probably will be conclusive.

If a deadlock develops on any of the four provisions which remain in dispute, the lawmaker said the decision may be checked directly to the house and senate, by reporting disagreement and asking for instructions.

The committee has no time to waste, for OPA expires Sunday midnight unless the extension bill is enacted.

Two reasons lay behind the unusual night session. Some of the conferees wanted time to consult with colleagues who are not members of the committee. In addition, the banking committee from which the house conferees were picked had a date to confer with the rules committee on procedure for calling up the British loan bill in the house.

Yes Or No Vote
If an OPA measure is agreed upon tonight, the house can take it tomorrow. There will be no opportunity to amend it; the house must either vote it up or down, or send the conferees back with instructions to yield or hold out on controverted points.

After the house acts, the bill goes to the senate, where there is always the chance of a time-consuming filibuster. It was learned the

FATHER, SON ON CYCLE BADLY HURT

A father and son are in Mercy hospital, Canton, today seriously injured after a motorcycle they were riding struck the open door of a car on Route 30, just east of Minerva, at 11 p. m. Saturday.

The father is suffering from a fractured skull and fracture of the left leg and the son has a fractured skull and right collar bone. Both have severe abrasions and contusions of the face and body.

Salem state highway patrolmen said the cycle struck the open door of a car operated by Joseph Knight, Jr., 19, of Salineville, as Knight started to step from the car after stopping. He told patrolmen his light fuse had blown out and he stopped the car to make the repair

40 1/2-Cent-a-Ton Contract

If the curious system of making wage contracts under government auspices were to be handled logically, it would start where it now stops and proceed in reverse.

Using coal as an illustration, because OPA has announced what consumers will pay for the contract the government gave United Mine Workers, the steps would be as follows:

OPA would tell consumers that the total price boost of coal would be 40 1/2 cents if certain operating costs increased. It would ask the public to consider the proposition.

Meanwhile, it would tell United Mine Workers and the operators what it had in mind. They would have no voice in the matter—no more than the public has under the system now in use.

Under the upside down, reverse system, though, the public would have the final say. It could accept or reject the changes in operating costs that would make it pay 40 1/2 cents more for coal—and obviously would reject them, declaring that it wanted less, say 33 1/2 cents. The bickering would continue until a deadline was reached. The public would go on strike, refusing to use any more coal. United Mine Workers would plead with it to return to its coal cellars. John L. Lewis would show anguish. But the public would be adamant. Finally the government would seize it and dictate a settlement of 37 cents across the board, the miners would feel relieved and in due time would learn what the settlement meant to them, which would be something a little worse than they expected.

That would be much more logical than what has just happened. If you missed it, OPA says soft coal prices now must go up an average of 40 1/2 cents a ton, boosting the national coal bill an estimated $222,750,000, to pay for the contract the government made with the coal miners. The public had a right to know this in the first place.

Does The Shoe Fit?

Webster's Dictionary defines a racket as a system of obtaining money fraudulently or by threat of violence, usually with the outward consent of the victims.

There are hundreds of rackets. As a matter of public policy, the United States is opposed to all of them and has so stated in federal law. The offense of racketeering is as bad when committed by one person as by another.

Whenever a citizen acting within his proper rights is forced to pay money under violence or the threat of violence for something he does not want he has been victimized by a form of racketeering. It does not matter if he pretends to be satisfied with his bargain. Racketeering is not a conditional crime. It is absolute.

This has been stated, or rather restated, by Congress in the Hobbs bill. This bill, having passed both houses of Congress, awaits President Truman's signature. It is a clarification of public policy laid down more than a decade ago when racketeering first frightened the country.

The original declaration of policy was tortured by a decision of the Supreme Court into an exception for one group of citizens, labor unionists obtaining money under threat of violence from other citizens engaged in interstate commerce. The court itself, apparently dubious of making this exception, invited Congress to take remedial action. This action now has been taken. It awaits confirmation by President Truman. The United States has no desire to legislate unfairly against labor unions. But if any labor union chooses to try on the law against racketeering and the law, it should not be able to claim exemption from public policy.

Joint Responsibility

State Department reasoning behind a proposed our-power treaty among the United States, Russia, Britain and China to keep Japan militarily helpless or at least 25 years seems to be the same as that in the similar proposal for Germany.

It is a sign of intent. The United States, which withdrew from direct participation in postwar security after World War I, stands ready to commit itself to a share of responsibility for policing Germany and Japan for the next 25 years. This is the American alternative to a mutual assistance treaty against aggression, Russia's proposal for security.

In other words, the United States proposes to eliminate Germany and Japan as possible aggressors, as for mutual assistance, if the governments which have created the United Nations believe in their pledges, no other aggression is possible. Russia, in other words, needs to fear only the possible resurgence of militarism in Germany and Japan, and the United States has taken the lead in a security plan to make that impossible. As far as this government is concerned, the Russians have no other potential enemies, or at least none which cannot be restrained under the cooperative security provisions of the United Nations charter.

Russian reaction following announcement of the 3-year plan to keep Germany helpless was unfavorable. It presumably will be unfavorable on the plan to keep Japan demilitarized. What diplomats need is good five-cent plan that will please Russia.

Regional Baseball

The generally-accepted fact that sports spectacles are related closely to public morals, in the same way that college athletics are related to campus morale, explains why many Ohioans are interested in the transfer of ownership of the Cleveland Indians.

Regional baseball is not a theory, but an important element in sports promotion. Ohio's direct interest in major league baseball is divided among four major league teams: the Indians, the Cincinnati Reds, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Detroit Tigers. Each of these teams draws on a segment of the state's population for its attendance.

Fans who have supported the Indians for years without being rewarded with an American League championship or a chance to see a world series have only the kindest thoughts for the retiring ownership, which had lost their confidence. The new ownership now goes on probation; the question is whether it will be able to convince the followers of the Indians that the margin of hope, which had dwindled to almost nothing, will now begin to grow wider. The hope that springs eternal in the baseball fan's breast is the key to the whole major league enterprise—a will-o-the-wisp that makes the difference between its success and failure. The main job of the new ownership of the Indians is to rekindle hope in northeastern Ohio.

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, June 25

ACCORDING to the lunar transits, this may be a difficult day on which to come to wise decisions or to keep affairs in safe and sound grooves for successful advancement or for any degree of satisfaction. Others are involved and should be managed with discretion and regularity.

Erratic, confused or show-off tactics are likely to bring on dangers and regrets in business, employment, domestic and sentimental relations.

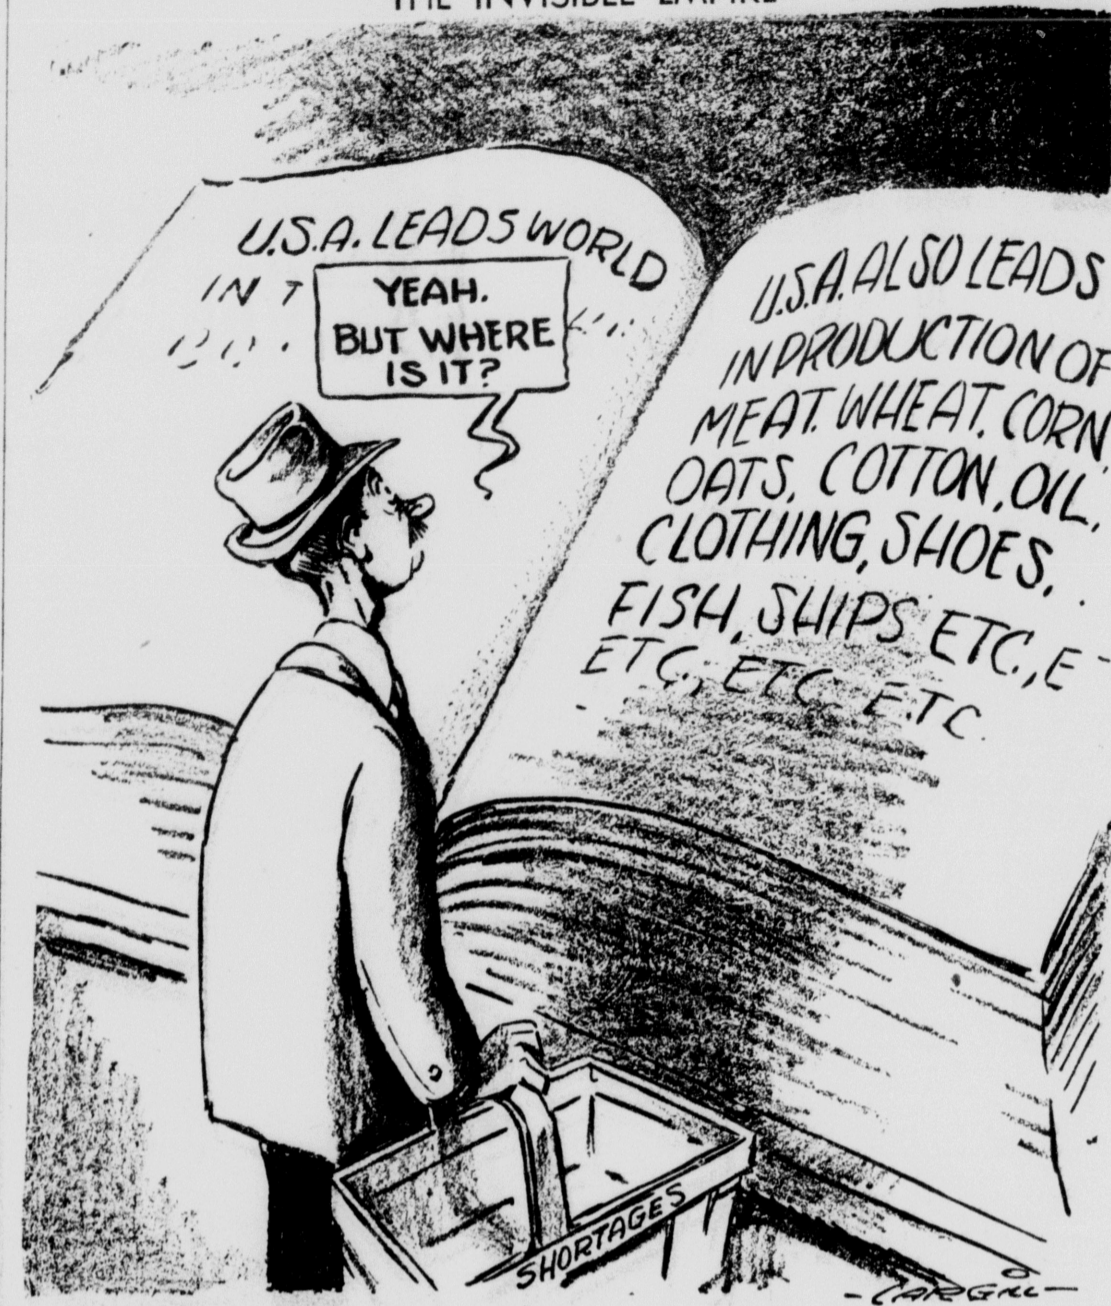

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a lucrative, progressive and happy year by adhering to accepted rules, regulations and codes, in business, employment, home and love affairs. Any false, irregular or egotistic tactics are likely to alienate the interest and good will if not the affection of those concerned. Jealousy, strife, erratic moves might prove detrimental in all affairs.

A child born on this day may have admirable talents and traits of character but a tendency toward the dramatic, showy, or temperamental may prove its self-undoing.

It's hard to say which takes the most pleasure out of pleasure driving—a motorist tearing down the street or a contractor tearing it up.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Pre-Operation Conditioning

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WHEN on operation is necessary, the condition of the patient at the time he goes on the table is as important to the final outcome as is the skill of the surgeon. Therefore, doctors are always searching for new ways of building up the patient's strength, and so rendering the ordeal of surgery more tolerable.

Toxic goitre or hyperthyroidism is a condition in which, along with enlargement of the thyroid gland, there is an enormous speeding up of all activities of the body. It is as if all the drafts in a furnace were opened and kept that way.

Exhaustion Follows

The result is a roaring conflagration in which fuel (food and even body tissues) is burned at a terrific rate, the heart races feverishly, and the nervous system reacts with hair-trigger irritability until at last, if the process is not stopped, the whole mechanism collapses in exhaustion.

The way to stop it is to remove the greater part of the overactive thyroid gland, the source of all this trouble. It is easy to see, however, that a patient in this overstimulated condition may not stand operation well and that to add the strain of surgery to that already produced by the disease may prove fatal.

Formerly doctors used bed rest and doses of iodine to bring racing body processes to a more normal tempo so that operation could be undertaken. About two years ago, however, a new drug called thio-uracil was introduced for this purpose. It has resulted in the saving of many lives, having proved is reached, the operation may be carried out.

Returned To Normal

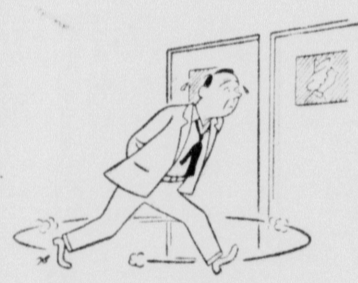

In all instances when the thio-uracil treatment was carried out long enough, the rate of bodily activity was brought back to normal. In some of the patients it was found that, at operation, the thyroid gland was soft and bleeding a great deal.

Dr. Lahey determined that this could be overcome by giving an iodine solution together with the thio-uracil during the three-week period immediately before operation.

During the last week before operation the thio-uracil was discontinued and the iodine administered alone. When this treatment was carried out, reactions following operation were eliminated.

During the course of treatment, in one out of ten of the patients treated, there were reactions to the thio-uracil such as a decrease in the number of white cells, fever, muscular aching, and skin rash. These cleared when drug stopped.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Waiting is tough on us, too

For months we've been hoping to present each and every one of you with the new Packards you've ordered, and have been waiting for so patiently.

Last fall, the outlook was good. Packard was confident it would double its pre-war output in 1946. (The factory is equipped to turn out far more than that.)

Look what has happened!

Then came material shortages. Parts shortages. For reasons completely beyond its own control, Packard was able to keep its assembly line moving only nine days in the first quarter of this year.

In the meantime . . .

Our friends have kept calling us up and asking, "Hey! Where's that new Packard I ordered weeks ago?" Many of these are old friends—Packard owners since 'way back.

40 1/2-Cent-a-Ton Contract

If the curious system of making wage contracts under government auspices were to be handled logically, it would start where it now stops and proceed in reverse.

Using coal as an illustration, because OPA has announced what consumers will pay for the contract the government gave United Mine Workers, the steps would be as follows:

OPA would tell consumers that the total price boost of coal would be 40 1/2 cents if certain operating costs increased. It would ask the public to consider the proposition.

Meanwhile, it would tell United Mine Workers and the operators what it had in mind. They would have no voice in the matter—no more than the public has under the system now in use.

Under the upside down, reverse system, though, the public would have the final say. It could accept or reject the changes in operating costs that would make it pay 40 1/2 cents more for coal—and obviously would reject them, declaring that it wanted less, say 33 1/2 cents. The bickering would continue until a deadline was reached. The public would go on strike, refusing to use any more coal. United Mine Workers would plead with it to return to its coal cellars. John L. Lewis would show anguish. But the public would be adamant. Finally the government would seize it and dictate a settlement of 37 cents across the board, the miners would feel relieved and in due time would learn what the settlement meant to them, which would be something a little worse than they expected.

That would be much more logical than what has just happened. If you missed it, OPA says soft coal prices now must go up an average of 40 1/2 cents a ton, boosting the national coal bill an estimated $222,750,000, to pay for the contract the government made with the coal miners. The public had a right to know this in the first place.

Does The Shoe Fit?

Webster's Dictionary defines a racket as a system of obtaining money fraudulently or by threat of violence, usually with the outward consent of the victims.

There are hundreds of rackets. As a matter of public policy, the United States is opposed to all of them and has so stated in federal law. The offense of racketeering is as bad when committed by one person as by another.

Whenever a citizen acting within his proper rights is forced to pay money under violence or the threat of violence for something he does not want he has been victimized by a form of racketeering. It does not matter if he pretends to be satisfied with his bargain. Racketeering is not a conditional crime. It is absolute.

This has been stated, or rather restated, by Congress in the Hobbs bill. This bill, having passed both houses of Congress, awaits President Truman's signature. It is a clarification of public policy laid down more than a decade ago when racketeering first frightened the country.

The original declaration of policy was tortured by a decision of the Supreme Court into an exception for one group of citizens, labor unionists obtaining money under threat of violence from other citizens engaged in interstate commerce. The court itself, apparently dubious of making this exception, invited Congress to take remedial action. This action now has been taken. It awaits confirmation by President Truman. The United States has no desire to legislate unfairly against labor unions. But if any labor union chooses to try on the law against racketeering and the law its, it should not be able to claim exemption from public policy.

Joint Responsibility

State Department reasoning behind a proposed out-power treaty among the United States, Russia, Britain and China to keep Japan militarily helpless or at least 25 years seems to be the same as that in the similar proposal for Germany.

It is a sign of intent. The United States, which withdrew from direct participation in postwar security after World War I, stands ready to commit itself to a share of responsibility for policing Germany and Japan for the next 25 years. This is the American alternative to a mutual assistance treaty against aggression, Russia's proposal for security.

In other words, the United States proposes to eliminate Germany and Japan as possible aggressors, as for mutual assistance, if the governments which have created the United Nations believe in their pledges, no other aggression is possible. Russia, in other words, needs to fear only the possible resurgence of militarism in Germany and Japan, and the United States has taken the lead in a security plan to make that impossible. As far as this government is concerned, the Russians have no other potential enemies, or at least none which cannot be restrained under the cooperative security provisions of the United Nations charter.

Russian reaction following announcement of the 1-year plan to keep Germany helpless was unfavorable. It presumably will be unfavorable on the plan to keep Japan demilitarized. What diplomats need is good five-cent plan that will please Russia.

Regional Baseball

The generally-accepted fact that sports spectacles are related closely to public morals, in the same way that college athletics are related to campus morale, explains why many Ohioans are interested in the transfer of ownership of the Cleveland Indians.

Regional baseball is not a theory, but an important element in sports promotion. Ohio's direct interest in major league baseball is divided among four major league teams: the Indians, the Cincinnati Reds, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Detroit Tigers. Each of these teams draws on a segment of the state's population for its attendance.

Fans who have supported the Indians for years without being rewarded with an American League championship or a chance to see a world series have only the kindest thoughts for the retiring ownership, which had lost their confidence. The new ownership now goes on probation; the question is whether it will be able to convince the followers of the Indians that the margin of hope, which had dwindled to almost nothing, will now begin to grow wider. The hope that springs eternal in the baseball fan's breast is the key to the whole major league enterprise—a will-o-the-wisp that makes the difference between its success and failure. The main job of the new ownership of the Indians is to rekindle hope in northeastern Ohio.

The Stars Say

For Tuesday, June 25

ACCORDING to the lunar transits, this may be a difficult day on which to come to wise decisions or to keep affairs in safe and sound grooves for successful advancement or for any degree of satisfaction. Others are involved and should be managed with discretion and regularity.

Erratic, confused or show-off tactics are likely to bring on dangers and regrets in business, employment, domestic and sentimental relations.

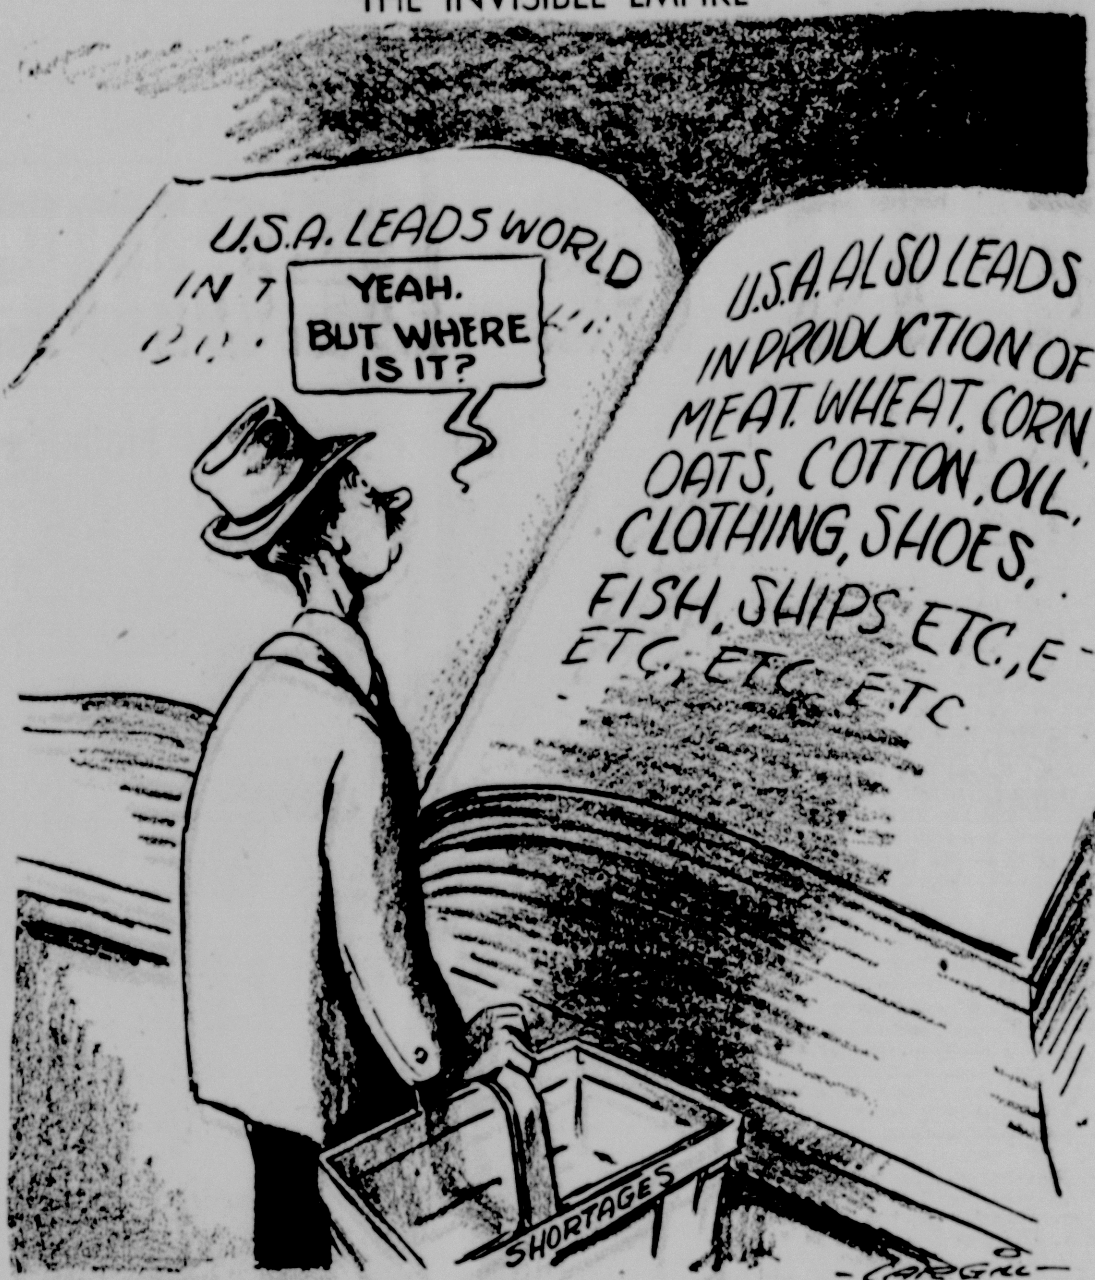

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a lucrative, progressive and happy year by adhering to accepted rules, regulations and codes, in business, employment, home and love affairs. Any false, irregular or egotistic tactics are likely to alienate the interested and good will if not the affection of those concerned. Jealousy, strife, erratic moves might prove detrimental in all affairs.

A child born on this day may have admirable talents and traits of character but a tendency toward the dramatic, showy, or temperamental may prove its self-undoing.

It's hard to say which takes the most pleasure out of pleasure driving—a motorist tearing down the street or a contractor tearing it up.

There are four sets of twins in an Ohio college. Both members of each pair look as alike as two college students.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Pre-Operation Conditioning

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WHEN on operation is necessary, the condition of the patient at the time he goes on the table is as important to the final outcome as is the skill of the surgeon. Therefore, doctors are always searching for new ways of building up the patient's strength, and so rendering the ordeal of surgery more tolerable.

Toxic goitre or hyperthyroidism is a condition in which, along with enlargement of the thyroid gland, there is an enormous speeding up of all activities of the body. It is as if all the drafts in a furnace were opened and kept that way.

Exhaustion Follows

The result is a roaring conflagration in which fuel (food and even body tissues) is burned at a terrific rate, the heart races feverishly, and the nervous system reacts with hair-trigger irritability until at last, if the process is not stopped, the whole mechanism collapses in exhaustion.

The way to stop it is to remove the greater part of the overactive thyroid gland, the source of all this trouble. It is easy to see, however, that a patient in this overstimulated condition may not stand operation well and that to add the strain of surgery to that already produced by the disease may prove fatal.

Formerly doctors used bed rest and doses of iodine to bring racing body processes to a more normal tempo so that operation could be undertaken. About two years ago, however, a new drug called thio-uracil was introduced for this purpose. It has resulted in the saving of many lives, having proved is reached, the operation may be carried out.

Returned To Normal

In all instances when the thio-uracil treatment was carried out long enough, the rate of bodily activity was brought back to normal. In some of the patients it was found that, at operation, the thyroid gland was soft and bleeding a great deal.

Dr. Lahey determined that this could be overcome by giving an iodine solution together with the thio-uracil during the three-week period immediately before operation.

During the last week before operation the thio-uracil was discontinued and the iodine administered alone. When this treatment was carried out, reactions following operation were eliminated.

During the course of treatment, in one out of ten of the patients treated, there were reactions to the thio-uracil such as a decrease in the number of white cells, fever, muscular aching, and skin rash. These cleared when drug stopped.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Waiting is tough on us, too

For months we've been hoping to present each and every one of you with the new Packards you've ordered, and have been waiting for so patiently.

Last fall, the outlook was good. Packard was confident it would double its pre-war output in 1946. (The factory is equipped to turn out far more than that.)

Look what has happened!

Then came material shortages. Parts shortages. For reasons completely beyond its own control, Packard was able to keep its assembly line moving only nine days in the first quarter of this year.

In the meantime . . .

Our friends have kept calling us up and asking, "Hey! Where's that new Packard I ordered weeks ago?" Many of these are old friends—Packard owners since 'way back.

But to make life more complicated, everybody seems to want one of these grand new Packards. Over 65% of the people out to buy new Packards are now driving some other make.

Honest, it's gotten so we hate to answer the telephone or look our friends in the face. But . . .

Your patience will pay off!

One of these days, the shortage of parts and materials is bound to ease up. And when it does, those twin-assembly lines at Packard will really roll.

Anyway, you can depend on this:

As fast as the factory ships cars to us, we'll do everything we can to deliver yours at the earliest possible moment.

So, we hope you'll be patient a little longer. We're doing the best we can, and so are the folks at the factory!

UNCLE SAM SPREADS HIS SPUDS OUT TO DRY

THE U. S. GOVERNMENT is in the potato business in a far bigger way than it probably ever bargained for when Uncle Sam offered a support price of $2.05 per 100-pound sack for Arizona No. 1 grade spuds. Shown above, workers spread potatoes out to dry on an airfield landing strip. The government will sell them to a distilling corporation for 90 cents per 100 pounds, and instead of losing money, will gain for the distiller should average 5.3 gallons of alcohol from each 100 pounds on which Uncle Sam will take $18 in tax.

Mrs. Robert Maurer of Columbiana was hostess to the Oberlin Women's Alumni Association of the Youngstown district at a picnic in Pavilion 3, Firestone park, Friday. Mrs. Edward S. Walton of Youngstown is president of the organization.

Mrs. T. B. Hyland of Columbiana spoke on her hobby, "Buttons," and displayed her collection.

Sgt. Elmer H. Detwiler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Detwiler of N. Main st. is back in the United States from Korea after six months' service overseas. He has been in the army 18 months and is at Camp Meade, Md., awaiting his discharge.

Wesley Burkhardt has bought of Dr. Arthur Tidd of Youngstown the north half of the large vacant lot at Vine st. and Spring alley where he intends to build a residence. Postmaster S. W. Tidd owns the south half of the lot.

The Girl Scout meeting set for Wednesday has been postponed to July 10.

Dr. C. A. Johnson, who has been bedfast at his home on Duquesne st. since March with a heart condition, continues seriously ill.

Mrs. Leo Holloway, who underwent surgical treatment in Salem City hospital, has returned home.

UNCLE SAM SPREADS HIS SPUDS OUT TO DRY

THE U. S. GOVERNMENT is in the potato business in a far bigger way than it probably ever bargained for when Uncle Sam offered a support price of $2.05 per 100-pound sack for Arizona No. 1 grade spuds. Shown above, workers spread potatoes out to dry on an airfield landing strip. The government will sell them to a distilling corporation for 90 cents per 100 pounds, and, instead of losing money, will gain for the distiller should average 5.3 gallons of alcohol from each 100 pounds on which Uncle Sam will take $18 in tax.

Nation Had Fewer Cases Of Smallpox In Year '45

NEW YORK, June 24—Smallpox reached its lowest ebb in the United States in 1945, according to statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Last year only 346 cases were reported in the entire country, and 13 states and the District of Columbia were completely free of the disease. In Canada only five cases were reported.

The steady decline of the disease is strikingly brought out by the statisticians by contrasting 1945's 346 cases with the 48,320 cases reported in the United States as recently as 1930.

Rita Emery, Thomas Canning Married At Church Saturday

In a wedding characterized by beauty and unusual appointments, Miss Rita Regina Emery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Emery of Perry st., and Thomas Joseph Canning, son of T. J. Canning of Columbus, were married at 10:30 a. m. Saturday in St. Paul's Catholic church.

Rev. Fr. Urban Schmitzhofer, O. S. B., of Florence, Colo., uncle of the bride, who also married her parents, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. Fr. Marceau of Dunganston, as deacon, and Rev. Fr. William Appell, assistant pastor of St. Paul's, as subdeacon.

The mass was sung by the Misses Margaret Entriiken, Anne Sweeney and Carmen McNicol, accompanied by Miss Sara Colman, organist.

The altar was artistically decorated with bouquets of white flowers and palms and lighted by tall white candles in brass holders.

Given By Father
Given in marriage by her father, who escorted her to the altar, the bride was charmingly gowned in a creation of white Japanese silk over satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and a buffant skirt with a short train. Belgian lace edged the bodice, sleeves and was inserted in the bodice. The silk was a gift from the groom. She wore a finger-tip veil, which fell from a beaded Juliet cap. She also wore a ruby and pearl lavalier, a gift from her mother, and carried the garnet rosary of her paternal grandmother. Her bouquet of lavender orchids and pansies was showered with stephanotis.

Miss Mary Louise Emery, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore an attractive gown of embroidered pink faille, styled with a fitted bodice, V neckline, cap sleeves and a draped skirt. Her headpiece was a halo of pink roses and blue larkspur and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and blue larkspur.

The bridesmaids were Miss Florence England and Miss Betty Bruder of Salem and Miss Evelyn Gallardi and Miss Eileen Tormes of Columbus, the last two being college friends of the bride. They were attired in aqua embroidered faille, their gowns being styled similarly to the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of peach carnations and gladioli centered with pansies and wore headpieces of peach carnations and larkspur.

John Canning of Chicago was his brother's best man. The ushers were David Hilton of Cincinnati, brother-in-law of the groom, and George Schmidt, Gilbert Miller and Richard Wolf of Columbus.

Mrs. Emery, mother of the bride, was costumed in a formal peach crepe gown, with gold and brown accessories.

stories. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

The bride gave her attendants earrings and the groom gave his attendants lighters.

Reception Is Held

One hundred and fifty guests were entertained at a buffet breakfast and reception from 1 to 3 p. m. Saturday at Overlook Inn, near Canfield. A three-tiered wedding cake ornamented with roses, graced the table.

Virginia Hollinger Bride In Saturday Home Wedding

Miss Virginia Hollinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hollinger of the Benton rd., became the bride of Donald M. Slagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Slagle of W. Fifth st., at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in a beautifully appointed wedding at the home of her parents.

During the double ring service, which was performed by Rev. G. D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran church, the bridal party stood in front of the fireplace, which was banked with palms and flanked with white candles in tall seven-branched candelabra. A white flower arrangement graced the mantel.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Virginia Lyons of Everett, sorority sister of the bride, offered a short program of nuptial music. She accompanied Miss Lera Slagle of R.D. Salem, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

As the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin were heard, the bridal procession started down the stairs. Mrs. Sylvester Dolinar, sister of the bride, matron of honor, preceded the bride, who walked with her father. They met the groom and his best man, Robert Moffitt of Alliance, at the appointed place. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

White Nylon Gown

The bride's white nylon gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, round neckline, cap sleeves, attached to a full skirt which ended in a short train. Her finger-tip veil fell from a tiara of pearls and small white beads. She wore long white gloves and carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and baby breath, bordered with blue flowers. Her strand of pearls was a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Dolinar appeared in a blue net formal over taffeta and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Hollinger chose a grey crepe dress for her daughter's wedding, while Mrs. Slagle was costumed in blue flowered jersey. Both wore corsages of Talisman roses.

CHANGE-ABOUT CLOTHES ARE WARDROBE STRETCHERS

If your wardrobe has been, for any reason, reduced to a minimum, you may find it wise to replenish it by turning to sewing, and creating styles that take readily to accessory change-abouts. The three costumes pictured above are basic models that can be dressed up or down with accessories appropriate to the occasion on which they are worn. The suit, shown left, has a cardigan jacket, and with it is worn a white or cream colored blouse with frothy ruffles at neck and wrists. The next outfit combines a printed crepe jacket with a solid black skirt. This combination is a help if there are yardage shortages, and the skirt can be worn with different blouses as a wardrobe stretcher. The simple dress, like that shown right, is easily glamorized with jewelry and accessory changes. This model has an interesting keyhole cutout neckline, a new note this season.

Rita Emery, Thomas Canning Married At Church Saturday

In a wedding characterized by beauty and unusual appointments, Miss Rita Emery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Emery of Perry st., and Thomas Joseph Canning, son of T. J. Canning of Columbus, were married at 10:30 a. m. Saturday in St. Paul's Catholic church.

Rev. Fr. Urban Schnitzhofer, O. S. B., of Florence, Colo., uncle of the bride, who also married her parents, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. Fr. Marceau of Dunganon, as deacon, and Rev. Fr. William Appell, assistant pastor of St. Paul's, as subdeacon.

The mass was sung by the Misses Margaret Enriken, Anne Sweeney and Carmen McNicol, accompanied by Miss Sara Colman, organist.

The altar was artistically decorated with bouquets of white flowers and palms and lighted by tall white candles in brass holders.

Given By Father

Given in marriage by her father, who escorted her to the altar, the bride was charmingly gowned in a creation of white Japanese silk over satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice, sweetheart neckline and a buffant skirt with a short train. Belgian lace edged the bodice sleeves and was inserted in the bodice. The silk was a gift from the groom. She wore a finger-tip veil, which fell from a beaded Juliet cap. She also wore a ruby and pearl lavalier, a gift from her mother, and carried the garnet rosary of her paternal grandmother. Her bouquet of lavender orchids and pansies was showered with stephanotis.

Miss Mary Louise Emery, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore an attractive gown of embroidered pink faille, styled with a fitted bodice, V neckline, cap sleeves and a draped skirt. Her headpiece was a halo of pink roses and blue larkspur and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and blue larkspur.

The bridesmaids were Miss Florence England and Miss Betty Bruder of Salem and Miss Evelyn Gallardi and Miss Eileen Tormes of Columbus, the last two being college friends of the bride. They were attired in aqua embroidered faille, their gowns being styled similarly to the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of peach carnations and gladioli centered with pansies and wore headpieces of peach carnations and larkspur.

John Canning of Chicago was his brother's best man. The ushers were David Hilton of Cincinnati, brother-in-law of the groom, and George Schmidt, Gilbert Miller and Richard Wolf of Columbus.

Mrs. Emery, mother of the bride, was costumed in a formal peach crepe gown, with gold and brown accessories.

series. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

The bride gave her attendants earrings and the groom gave his attendants lighters.

Reception Is Held

One hundred and fifty guests were entertained at a buffet breakfast and reception from 1 to 3 p. m. Saturday at Overlook Inn, near Canfield. A three-tiered wedding cake ornamented with roses, graced the table.

Mrs. Canning received her Bachelor of Science degree at St. Mary of the Springs college, Columbus. She served her internship at Johns-Hopkins hospital, Baltimore, Md., and for the past six months has been employed as dietitian at the Central Clinic.

Mr. Canning was graduated from Thomas Aquinas Prep school, Columbus, and attended Dayton and Ohio State universities. A discharged veteran of three years service, he served in both the European and Pacific theaters.

Virginia Hollinger Bride In Saturday Home Wedding

Miss Virginia Hollinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hollinger of the Benton rd., became the bride of Donald M. Slagle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Slagle of W. Fifth st., at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in a beautifully appointed wedding at the home of her parents.

During the double ring service, which was performed by Rev. G. D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran church, the bridal party stood in front of the fireplace, which was banked with palms and flanked with white candles in tall seven-branch candelabra. A white flower arrangement graced the mantle.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Virginia Lyons of Everett, sorority sister of the bride, offered a short program of nuptial music. She accompanied Miss Lera Slagle of R.D. Salem, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

As the strains of the Bridal chorus from Lohengrin were heard, the bridal procession started down the stairs. Mrs. Sylvester Dolinar, sister of the bride, matron of honor, preceded the bride, who walked with her father. They met the groom and his best man, Robert Moffitt of Alliance, at the appointed place. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

White Nylon Gown

The bride's white nylon gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, round neckline, cap sleeves, attached to a full skirt which ended in a short train. Her finger-tip veil fell from a tiara of pearls and small white beads. She wore long white gloves and carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and baby breath, bordered with blue flowers. Her strand of pearls was a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Dolinar appeared in a blue net formal over taffeta and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Hollinger chose a grey crepe dress for her daughter's wedding, while Mrs. Slagle was costumed in blue flowered jersey. Both wore corsages of Talisman roses.

If your wardrobe has been, for any reason, reduced to a minimum, you may find it wise to replenish it by turning to sewing, and creating styles that take readily to accessory change-abouts. The three costumes pictured above are basic models that can be dressed up or down with accessories appropriate to the occasion on which they are worn. The suit, shown left, has a cardigan jacket, and with it is worn a white or cream colored blouse with frothy ruffles at neck and wristlines. The next outfit combines a printed crepe jacket with a solid black skirt. This combination is a help if there are yardage shortages, and the skirt can be worn with different blouses as a wardrobe stretcher. The simple dress, like that shown right, is easily glamorized with jewelry and accessory changes. This model has an interesting keyhole cutout neckline, a new note this season.

EDUCATIONAL

Many ailments come from the eyes. You don't feel just right. You have a pain across your forehead — you become dizzy — reading tires you. These are the symptoms of weak eyes. Glasses would eliminate all that discomfort.

Glasses "cure" nothing, but they often remove the cause of many physical ailments and prevent eyes from going wrong by making them optically correct. Permanently impaired vision often results from neglecting temporary eye defects.

Let us examine your eyes, too.

Philadelphia Phillies Threaten To Bolt Second Division

CELLAR DWELLERS CATCHING FANS' FANCY AS THEY WIN

They're calling the Philadelphia National league baseballers the Flaming Phils now—not the Futile Phillies.

Here's why: Less than a month ago, the Phils—Futiles then—were in the cellar with eight victories and 24 defeats.

Since May 29, the Phils—Flaming Phils now—have won 17 of 23 and have climbed to sixth place, only one and a half notches away from fourth place—and the first division.

Not since the halcyon days of the Athletics of 1931 have Philadelphia fans shown so much enthusiasm. Already the attendance in 25 home games has topped last year's season total by more than 135,000. Following an all-time Philadelphia record crowd of 22,663 Saturday spectators, a standing-room-only crowd of 33,949 paid admissions watched their favorites earn a victory and a tie in a double header with the Cincinnati Reds yesterday.

Both contests were overtime duels, with the Phils winning the first game 5-4 on Jim Tabor's 12th-inning home run for their fourth in a row, and the second halted by Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law with the score tied at 3-3 at the end of 11 frames.

Del Emis, the Phils' sensational rookie outfielder, poled a homer in each game to raise his total to six.

Tribe Drops Two

The American league leading Boston Red Sox appears to be back in their winning stride after their double drubbing of the Cleveland Indians 5-1 and 6-0. Jolted by eight losses in their last 10 games, the Red Sox received a much-needed lift by the stylish Boston pitching debut of Bill Zuber. The veteran right-hander, obtained only last week from the New York Yankees via the waiver route, hurled a splendid three-hit shutout in the afterpiece following Mickey Harris' six-hit performance in the opener. Ted

Williams, who drove in two runs in the first game, poled his 16th homer in the third inning of the second.

The sweep enabled the Red Sox to increase their first place lead to seven games over the Yankees, although the Bronx Bombers defeated the Detroit Tigers 10-8 in 11 innings. Tommy Henrich's two-run homer, his second of the game and the sixth for the Yankees, settled the game in the 11th. Joe DiMaggio also hit two homers. Hank Greenberg smashed his 16th homer with two on in the Tigers' five run eighth inning.

Brooklyn increased its National league lead to two and a half games over the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals by taking the rubber game of the three-game series with the Redbirds 4-2. Joe Hatten spaced eight hits and was helped by Dixie Walker who belted two triples, both resulting in runs.

Bruce Edwards, catching his first game for the Dodgers, doubled in his initial Major league appearance at the plate to drive in Brooklyn's first run.

The third place Chicago Cubs emerged all even after a torrid slugfest with the New York Giants by winning the second game 9-4 after dropping the first, 15-10. In all, 55 hits were made by both sides, 16 for extra bases, including five home runs.

The Boston Braves moved into fourth place with a double victory over Pittsburgh, 4-3 and 4-0, with Johnny Sain racking up his eighth triumph in the second game. Washington and St. Louis' Browns split a twin bill, exchanging 7-4 scores. After absorbing an 8-1 lacing by the Chicago White Sox, the Philadelphia Athletics came back to win the second game 6-1. Pitcher Lam Harris helped his own cause in the nightcap with a three-run homer.

Salem Saxons Win 18-3 Over Alliance

Salem's Saxons defeated the Alliance Saxons, 18-5, in a softball game at Alliance Sunday.

Matty Pauline hurled for Salem, limiting the Alliance squad to nine hits and three unimportant tallies. The Cantanites rapped two Salem pitchers for 13 hits, as they tallied all their runs in the first five innings. The AC was held to 10 safeties.

Del Ennis, the Phils' sensational rookie outfielder, potted a homer in each game to raise his total to six.

Tribe Drops Two

The American league leading Boston Red Sox appears to be back in their winning stride after their double drubbing of the Cleveland Indians 5-1 and 6-0. Jolted by eight losses in their last 10 games, the Red Sox received a much-needed lift by the still Boston pitching debut of Bill Zuber. The veteran righthander, obtained only last week from the New York Yankees via the waiver rule, hurled a splendid three-hit shutout in the afterpiece following Mickey Harris' six-hit performance in the opener. Ted

Williams, who drove in two runs in the first game, potted his 16th homer in the third inning of the second.

The sweep enabled the Red Sox to increase their first place lead to seven games over the Yankees, although the Bronx Bombers defeated the Detroit Tigers 10-8 in 11 innings. Tommy Henrich's two-run homer, his second of the game and the sixth for the Yankees, settled the game in the 11th. Joe DiMaggio also hit two homers. Hank Greenberg smashed his 16th homer with two on in the Tigers' five run eighth inning.

Brooklyn increased its National league lead to two and a half games over the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals by taking the rubber game of the three-game series with the Redbirds 4-2. Joe Mottien spaced eight hits and was helped by Dixie Walker who belted two triples, both resulting in runs.

Bruce Edwards, catching his first game for the Dodgers, doubled in his initial Major league appearance at the plate to drive in Brooklyn's first run.

The third place Chicago Cubs emerged all even after a torrid slugfest with the New York Giants by winning the second game 9-4 after dropping the first, 15-10. In all, 55 hits were made by both sides, 16 for extra bases, including five home runs.

The Boston Braves moved into fourth place with a double victory over Pittsburgh, 4-3 and 4-0, with Johnny Sain racking up his eighth triumph in the second game. Washington and St. Louis' Browns split a twin bill, exchanging 7-4 scores.

After absorbing an 8-1 lacing by the Chicago White Sox, the Philadelphia Athletics came back to win the second game 6-1. Pitcher Lam Harris helped his own cause in the nightcap with a three-run homer.

where "the armies which had been intended to defend Germany were shattered beyond recovery."

Of the Russians, Eisenhower said in planning for the final spring drive last year it was recognized that its success hinged to a large degree upon the weight of the Red army's pressure in the east, and he noted:

"Up to the end of 1944 I had received no information on matters affecting Russian grand strategy, although I had expressed by willingness to afford any such information concerning my own overall plans as the Red Army might desire."

Finally Met

"At Christmas time, however, following upon a message which I sent to the combined chiefs of staff explaining the difficulty with which I was faced in attempting to evolve plans while still ignorant of the Russian intentions, President Roosevelt agreed to receive our representative in order to discuss the correlation of our respective efforts in the forthcoming spring."

Accordingly Eisenhower's deputy, Air Chief Marshal Tedder, and others of his staff received from Stalin in January a "full explanation" of the plans for a four-pronged offensive by 150 to 160 Red army divisions.

Its success proved "even greater than had been anticipated," Eisenhower wrote.

His chronicle detailed air and naval as well as ground operations, and he acknowledged that "without the overwhelming mastery of the air... our assault against the continent would have been a most hazardous, if not impossible, undertaking."

"We achieved a degree of tactical surprise for which we had hardly dared to hope," he said.

An English memory expert told his head for $500 so that scientists might study it after his death.

It has been estimated that Americans eat a million doughnuts daily.

possibility of such a development.

was discussed in the conference sessions. Although four major disagreements remain, the key to the dispute is whether to accept senate amendments lifting price ceilings on meat, poultry and dairy products, petroleum and tobacco at the end of June.

House members take the attitude there is no need to single out specific commodities for special treatment, in view of the decontrol policy already agreed upon.

In general, this policy calls for removal of ceilings as soon as the supply of a commodity exceeds or balances the demand for it.

Detain Browder On Trip Back To U. S.

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, June 24.—British Security police held Earl Browder, former head of the Communist party in the United States, incommunicado today pending his departure for New York after a visit to Moscow.

The home office did not comment immediately.

A spokesman for the American embassy earlier today he had been advised Browder had been granted a transit visa authorizing him to stop in Britain while enroute.

Security police said Browder had been in their custody since his arrival from Paris last night.

American Overseas Airways said the home office had agreed to Browder's departure at 9 a. m. tomorrow when told no earlier reservation was available. The airline said Browder would reach La Guardia field, New York, late tomorrow night.

A United States embassy spokesman, asked under what authority Browder was being detained incommunicado, replied the United States often reported to similar procedure at Ellis Island.

Shock Kills Man In East Palestine Pool

EAST PALESTINE, June 24.—Charles Morford, 27, of R. D. 1, Beaver Falls, Pa., died at 2:45 p. m. Sunday while swimming in the City park pool.

Columbiana County Coroner E. R. Sturgis, after a post mortem examination Sunday night at the Oliver Funeral home, reported death was caused by an acute heart attack.

Morford was stricken when he is believed to have received an electric shock from the shower spray at one of the two children's wading pools. Witnesses said the man was walking in the wading pool on the north side of the main pool when he slipped and grabbed the pipe on which is connected the spray apparatus. Officials later discovered there was a short circuit in a quarter-horsepower motor under the pool which may have given Morford a slight electrical shock.

After he came in contact with the spray pipe, he was unable to remove his hands from the pipe. A lifeguard, "Pie" Mohr, pushed Morford from the pipe and called park officials.

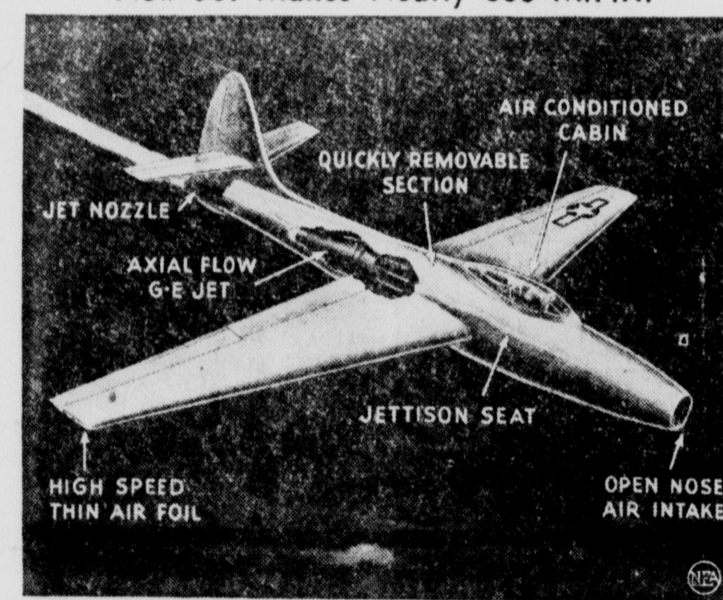

Efforts to revive Morford failed.

TOOTHACHE GIVES HIM HOME

MICHAEL STUART, 16, Hong Kong orphan, shows his pal 'Dumbo' the tooth he had extracted which led to him being saved from deportation to Shanghai after stowing away to America. Left to fend for himself during the war, the boy failed three times before successfully stowing away to the U. S. He was on the verge of being deported back to China when a toothache changed his luck. Dr. William Truette, a U. S. Public Health Service dentist at San Francisco, pulled the tooth and upon hearing the lad's story, posted $500 bond with the immigration authorities and promises to see that he is provided with a home. "At Christmas time, however, following upon a message which I sent to the combined chiefs of staff explaining the difficulty with which I was faced in attempting to evolve plans while still ignorant of the Russian intentions, President Roosevelt secured from Marshal Stalin his agreement to receive our representative in order to discuss the correlation of our respective efforts in the forthcoming spring."

Accordingly Eisenhower's deputy, Air Chief Marshal Tedder, and others of his staff received from Stalin in January a "full explanation" of the plans for a four-pronged offensive by 150 to 160 Red army divisions.

Its success proved "even greater than had been anticipated," Eisenhower wrote.

His chronicle detailed air and naval as well as ground operations, and he acknowledged that "without the overwhelming mastery of the air... our assault against the continent would have been a most hazardous, if not impossible, undertaking."

"We achieved a degree of tactical surprise for which we had hardly dared to hope," he said.

An English memory expert sold his head for $500 so that scientists might study it after his death.

possibility of such a development was discussed in the conference sessions.

Although four major disagreements remain, the key to the dispute is whether to accept senate amendments lifting price ceilings on meat, poultry and dairy products, petroleum and tobacco at the end of June.

House members take the attitude there is no need to single out specific commodities for special treatment, in view of the decontrol policy already agreed upon.

In general, this policy calls for removal of ceilings as soon as the supply of a commodity exceeds or balances the demand for it.

Detain Browder On Trip Back To U. S.

(By Associated Press) LONDON, June 24.—British Security police held Earl Browder, former head of the Communist party in the United States, incommunicado today pending his departure for New York after a visit to Moscow.

The home office did not comment immediately.

A spokesman for the American embassy earlier today had been advised Browder had been granted a transit visa authorizing him to stop in Britain while enroute.

Security police said Browder had been in their custody since his arrival from Paris last night.

American Overseas Airways said the home office had agreed to Browder's departure at 9 a. m. tomorrow when told no earlier reservation was available. The airline said Browder would reach La Guardia field, New York, late tomorrow night.

Shock Kills Man In East Palestine Pool

EAST PALESTINE, June 24.—Charles Morford, 27, of R. D. 1, Beaver Falls, Pa., died at 2:45 p. m. Sunday while swimming in the City park pool.

Columbiana County Coroner E. R. Sturges, after a post mortem examination Sunday night at the Oil-Funeral home, reported death was caused by an acute heart attack.

Morford was stricken when he is believed to have received an electric shock from the shower spray at one of the two children's wading pools. Witnesses said the man was walking in the wading pool on the north side of the main pool when he slipped and grabbed the pipe on which is connected the spray apparatus. Officials later discovered there was a short circuit in a quarter-horsepower motor under the pool which may have given Morford a slight electrical shock.

After he came in contact with the spray pipe, he was unable to remove his hands from the pipe. A lifeguard, "Bic" Mohr, pushed Morford from the pipe and called park officials.

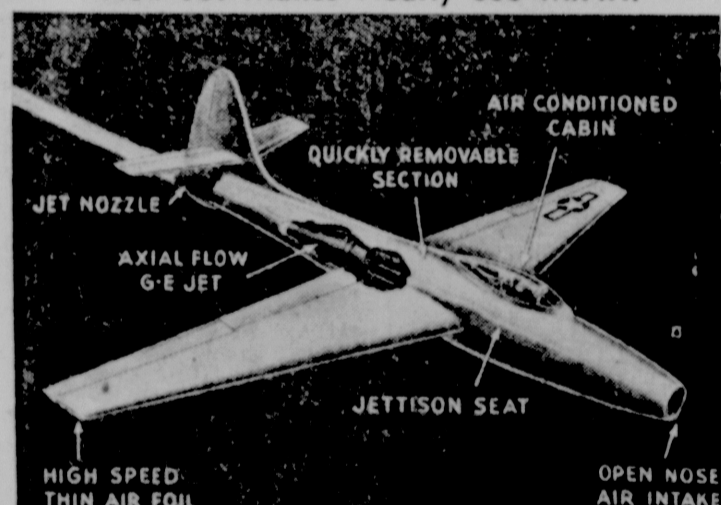

Efforts to revive Morford failed.

TOOTHACHE GIVES HIM HOME

MICHAEL STUART, 16, Hong Kong orphan, shows his pal "Dumbo" the tooth he had extracted which led to him being saved from deportation to Shanghai after stowing away to America. Left to fend for himself during the war, the boy failed three times before successfully stowing away to the U. S. He was on the verge of being deported back to China when a toothache changed his luck. Dr. William Truette, a U. S. Public Health Service dentist at San Francisco, pulled the tooth and upon hearing the lad's story, posted $500 bond with the immigration authorities and promises to see that he is provided with a home.
